Dear Sir,

Recently we painted the roof of our department store with your Insulating paint.

Before we painted the roof of our building the temperature inside the building was always hotter than outside of the building and we had to have seven large fans operating all day to try to cool the building down.

Since applying your product to our roof, the building is now much cooler than the outside temperatures. With the temperature reaching 40°C we have not had the need to use any of the fans.

We have also noticed that several rain leaks we had in the roof are now gone.

For our own interest the painters painted a small sheet of iron and we placed the unpainted sheet of iron next to it and attached thermometers on the underside of each sheet and at 2.30pm there was a 22°C temperature difference – absolutely incredible.

Yours faithfully,
